

News & Updates from SBAC

Hello all,

SBAC is committed to helping local small businesses in any way we can. And in times like these, word of mouth marketing and networking is more important than ever. In that vein, we'd like to invite our small business clients to bring their marketing materials to be displayed in our lobby. Drop off your brochures, fliers, or business cards and we will prominently place them where any visitors to our office can find them.

Is there any other way we can assist your business? Please let us know.

All the best,

Tony

PPP is still available!

On 2/23, SBA announced some changes to the PPP program, designed to reach more minority owned and very small businesses. These changes include:

- Dedicated two week period of access (2/24-3/9) to the PPP loan system for processing applications from businesses with twenty or fewer employees
- $1 billion set aside for businesses without employees in low- and moderate-income areas
- Changes to how income is calculated sole proprietors, independent contractors, and self-employed people – using the farmer and rancher calculations. This will allow for larger loan amounts.
- Easing some restrictions on borrowers with non-fraud felony convictions, delinquent student loan debt and ITIN holders
