News & Updates from SBAC

SBAC is proud to be a Certified Development Financial Institution (CDFI) certified by the U.S. Treasury Department. What does that mean? In short, it means SBAC exists to deliver responsible, affordable financial services in communities where such services can be hard to find. CDFIs like SBAC act as a bridge between financial services and underserved communities, thereby creating opportunity. Watch the video below to learn more.

As a member of the Opportunity Finance Network (OFN) SBAC is focused on "Lending Where it Counts." And we think it's making a difference - just check out the survey results linked below to see what some of our clients have to say about our services and their outlook for the future.

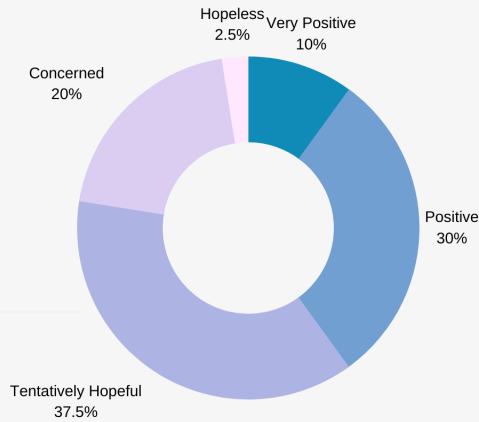

All the best,

Tony O'Reilly

Small Business Climate Survey

Over three months into a global pandemic, we wanted to know how our clients are holding up and how they feel about the future. We learned that many are struggling or just maintaining business, but that most (77%) feel hopeful or even positive about the future. Thanks to all who responded!
